

NONDISCRIMINATION

The Jackson School Board is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in relation to race, religion, sex, age, national origin, and handicap.

In keeping with the requirements of federal and state law, this school district strives to remove any vestige of discrimination in employment, assignment, and promotion of personnel; in educational opportunities and services offered students, in their assignment to schools and classes, and in their discipline; in location and use of facilities; in educational offerings and materials.

The Board encourages its staff to improve human relations within the schools, and to establish channels through which citizens can communicate their human relations concerns to the administration and the Board.
